VIDEO EQUIPMENT SUPPLIER OF THE YEAR

Magic Video Box

Though a small company with just two dedicated employees, Magic Video Box has an impressive reach, serving a wide and diverse clientele. Since launching in 2019, Magic Video Box has transformed how clients – ranging from TV producers and researchers to educators and therapists – approach filmmaking. Their device makes speaking directly to the camera simple, accessible and stress-free. This has had the effect of empowering users, making them feel at ease and enabling them to communicate effectively, profoundly impacting the quality and authenticity of the content being produced. The small size of the team allows them to offer personalised attention to every project, while their extensive network ensures they can take on large-scale, ambitious tasks with confidence and skill.

The judges were particularly impressed by the innovative video equipment provider who has managed to simplify the process of creating professional-looking content. As part of Flexible Films, Magic Video Box brings a thorough understanding of storytelling and visual communication – the production company has long specialised in co-produced films that aim to empower individuals and create real change. This ethos extends to Magic Video Box, which facilitates the production of impactful films by simplifying the technical side of video creation.
